The Perfect Life in Highlands, North Carolina

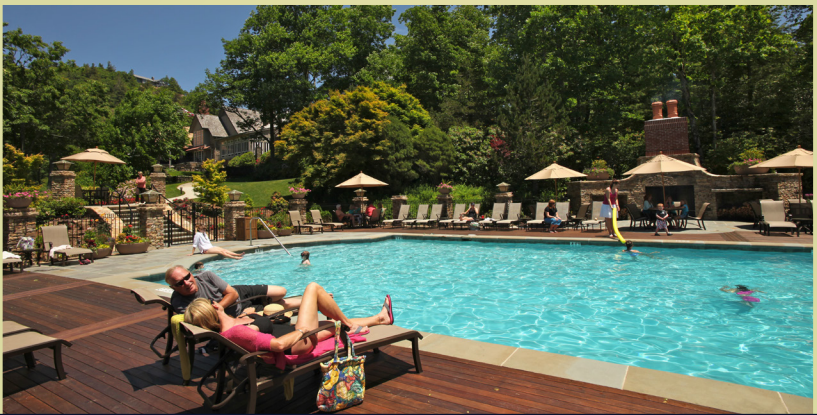

Highlands, North Carolina sits as the crowning jewel on the southern plateau of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The vibrant mountain village — with its breathtaking mountain vistas, mesmerizing waterfalls and wooded forest—draws second-home owners from across the country and visitors from around the world.

A stroll along Main Street reveals unique finds at every turn, including shopping, dining, museums and arts & crafts. Outdoor enthusiasts find their paradise here, with abundant opportunities for biking, hiking and horseback riding on spectacular mountain trails. The surrounding lakes and rivers offer tubing, canoeing, fly fishing and whitewater rafting.

Highlands is known for its beautiful seasons. In the spring its native Mountain Laurel blankets the forest in vibrant pink, and in the winter bare trees afford crystal-clear long-range views while snowfall creates a quiet stillness.

The Perfect Place is Cullasaja Club

There are few places more special than Cullasaja Club. This intimate golf and family Club community nestled at 4200 feet into North Carolina's Blue Ridge Mountains, offers Members 'Simply the Perfect Life'. Featuring less than 300 homes, the community boasts a stunning mountain Clubhouse, a premier golf course, gourmet dining and a full roster of Club activities including tennis, swimming, boating, and a first class fitness and wellness facility. This Highlands, North Carolina retreat has become a second home to friends and family who return year after year.
